

Space is huge and vast and endless.□
Earth is just a tiny speck that's□
Spinning in the cold and darkness.□
Coresain oh Coresain!□
Here upon the earth, our mother,□
We're all sisters, we're all brothers:□
Milkweed Tree Frog Herring Plover□
Virus Gecko Kangaroo.□
□
Half of all the world's oxygen□
Is produced by phytoplankton□
In the shallow sunwarmed oceans.□
Coresain oh Coresain!□
We can not be separated,□
Everything is integrated,□ Earth Sea Air are all related.□
Phytoplankton we love you!□
□
Wetlands house a host of creatures□
(Also they're our water filters)□
Shopping malls should not be built there!□
Coresain oh Coresain!□
Clean the air and clean the waters,□
Clean the earth oh sons and daughters,□
Help prevent amphibian slaughter!□
Save the Salamanders too!□
□
Can we say that we're alone □
When creatures with their own genomes□
Have made our cells their home sweet homes?□
Coresain oh Coresain!□
One fourth of our human cells□
Are beasties known as organelles.□
They synthesise the chemicals□
That we burn as energy.□
□
Clearly we're just part of nature,□
We're not better we're not greater.□
Let's not make our home a wasteland.□
Coresain oh Coresain□
Rivers Forests Grasslands Seas -□
Interconnected entities -□
Are threatened by humanity,□
Sacrificed to Industry!□

We believe the planet's health□
Is more important than the wealth□
Of cryptoindividuals.□
Coresain oh Coresain!□
Humans are insanely clever - □
Look what we've done to the weather! -□
Now its time that we endeavour□
To acquire wisdom, too.□
□
Out here on this ball in space□
We're one of many in this place.□
Live with life and love with grace.□
Coresain oh Coresain!□
Let's reclaim that sparkling jewel,□
Let's use wind and wave as fuels,□
Sun, shine bright on our renewal!□
Coresain oh Coresain!
□□Let's reclaim that sparkling jewel,
